The Company is the Data Controller under the applicable legislation, and the purposes and the way in which your personal data are collected, used and/or disclosed to third parties by the Company are explained in this Privacy Notice.

3. LEGAL BASIS FOR THE PROCESSING

3.1. The processing of your personal data is necessary in order to assess your job application and the possibility of your recruitment by the Company.

4. CATEGORIES OF PERSONAL DATA AND WAY OF PROCESSING

4.1 The categories of personal data we process regarding our candidates are determined by the applicable legislation and include, inter alia, the following: name, surname, telephone (and/or mobile), email address, postal address, date of birth, work experience and previous employment, education and skills (ex. foreign languages) and any other information included in your CV and/or your personal statement to the Company.

4.2 In case you are invited to an interview, we may also collect other personal data if this is strictly necessary in order to assess your suitability for specific positions. In addition, we may retain the information we received from the persons who interviewed you.

4.3 Any data you may have provided to the Company regarding other persons (ex. your affiliates, dependents, etc.) will be processed by us in accordance with the terms of this Privacy Notice. You are responsible for the accuracy of this data and information, and you also need to ensure that the aforementioned subjects are aware of the personal data provided by you and how they will be processed by the Company.

5. USE OF YOUR PERSONAL DATA

5.1 We will use your personal data in order to decide whether you are suitable to work for the position you have requested, including the evaluation and ranking of your skills and experience, and in order to keep you up to date on your progress.

5.2 Under certain circumstances, you have the right to object such processing of your personal data by contacting us at dataprivacv@gr.mcd.com. If your application is approved, we will use your personal data for personnel management purposes as well as for the required checks, in particular to confirm your details and history.

5.3 The Company may also use your personal data for purposes of internal functional reasons or for statistical and historical reasons.

6. RECIPIENTS OF YOUR PERSONAL DATA

6.1 Your personal data will only be made available to appropriately authorized employees of the Company who are responsible for HR management.

6.2 In the context of our business activities, we may disclose your information to service providers, such as telecommunication and IT service providers, for the purpose of developing systems and technical support, to employment agencies in order to help us identify and recruit suitable candidates, to companies that have contracts with the Company in order to carry out background checks on each candidate. We forbid such recipients to use the abovementioned information or to disclose it for any purpose other than the provision of services on our behalf.

6.3 We may decide for strategic or other business purposes, to sell or transfer our business in whole or in part. In the context of such sale or transfer, we may transmit information that we have collected and stored, including the information concerning your name, surname and email address, to any party involved in the sale or transfer.

6.4 Exceptionally, we may disclose your personal data to third parties, including the competent police and prosecuting authorities, only if there is a statutory obligation to do so, or we are obliged by decision/order of a judicial, regulatory or other public authority.

7. TRANSFER OF YOUR PERSONAL DATA

7.1 The personal data we collect are stored on secure servers located within the European Union (EU).

8. RETENTION OF YOUR PERSONAL DATA

8.1 We will retain your personal data for as long as is strictly necessary in order to achieve the purpose of their collection, and in accordance with the relevant legislation, unless a longer time period of retention is required in order to meet our legal or contractual obligations or in order to create, exercise or defend any legal requirements. Where your personal data are not necessary for the aforementioned purposes, they will be safely destroyed by the Company.

8.2 If you accept to work with us, personal data collected prior to your recruitment will form part of your personal record kept by the Company and will be maintained throughout your employment in the Company and for some additional years after the termination of the employment agreement in accordance with applicable legislation.

9. DATA SUBJECTS' RIGHTS

9.1 Subject to applicable legislation, you have the right to access, i.e. to be informed, upon your request, whether or not your personal data are subject to processing and to receive further information on such processing. In addition, you have the right and the obligation to request the rectification of any inaccurate personal data, in case there is a change concerning your skills and /or the specific circumstances. In addition, as long as the requirements under the applicable legislation are met, you have the right to erasure, the right to restriction of processing, the right to data portability and the right to object to the processing.

9.2 Finally, you can lodge a complaint with the competent Personal Data Protection Authority (Offices: 1-3 Kifissias Str., PC 115 23, Athens, Call Center: + 30-210 6475600, Fax: + 30-210 6475628). For the competence of the Authority and how to lodge a complaint, the prospective employee may visit the Company website (www.dpa.gr => My Rights => Submit a Complaint), where detailed information is available.

9.3 You may exercise these rights by contacting us at dataprivacy@gr.mcd.com.

9.4 If such a request places us in breach of our obligations under applicable laws, regulations or codes of practice of the Company or in case the provision of information would result in disclosing personal information of other individuals, then we may not be able to comply with your request, but you always have the right to ask the restriction of the processing of your personal data.

10. PERSONAL DATA SECURITY

10.1 We apply technical and organizational security measures to protect the integrity and security of all our information, including personal data we retain.

11. CONTACT US - DATA PROTECTION OFFICER (DPO)

11.1 The Company has entrusted the Data Protection Officer (DPO) with overseeing the compliance of the Company with personal data protection legislation, whom you can contact at dataprivacy@gr.mcd.com in case of any questions or concerns on the processing of personal data or if you wish to exercise one of the rights you have as data subject.
